

Time for a field check?

Float/Fish the Madison River.

Dear Jan,

Do you have any “unfinished business” from your time in The Master’s Program?

You remember the core code for TMP. It’s the Calling Convergence: the Vinn model that brings God’s Kingdom Purpose, your God-Honoring Passion and your God-Designed Potential into a power linkage. At the point of convergence, you find the filter that sorts-out the opportunities that advance your Kingdom Calling.

The Enemy has attacked you as you've worked to clarify those elements; he wants to deny us the clarity that focuses our capacity on the initiatives that will matter most. One of those factors – your God-Honoring Passion – is a predictable point of conflict. The incredible role of fathers – to pass the Blessing to sons – is a place of confusion and dysfunction in most generational handoffs. Remember the conversation we had – in Session #9 – regarding the Power of the Blessing... and the wound that happens when that baton doesn't pass?

One of our great ministry partners is the Wild Adventure. Hosted at Smiling Moose Lodge – a ranch in Southwestern Montana, along the Madison River - the Tuesday-Sunday week brings 12 men together (two leads; 10 participants) to catch (and release!) massive trout... and to do a “field check” in a distraction-free setting, to strengthen the heart issues that can amplify the sound of God's voice, speaking to the soul.

Over four months this summer, scores of guys will experience the Wild Adventure (one of our ministry partners – working under our non-profit entity). We're booked to 95% of capacity for 2019... but we have a half-dozen slots open up for some lucky last-minute joiners.

Click here to visit the Wild Adventure home page and get clear about the invitation. I'll be on one of those weeks this summer (not my first; won't be my last). I always leave better than I came, understanding more about how God made me – and how the Enemy wants to compromise me – and finding incredible value in a week with a dozen guys who get better, together, while experiencing the awesome environment of the Montana Rockies.

Some guys come, already seasoned veterans in the fly-fishing fraternity; others (like me) will arrive as rookies, getting the assist from the outfitters/trainers at Smiling Moose. They'll be learning - and, catching

- while immersed in the adventure that will be vying for their “best of” list, no matter how the fishing turns out!

When these spots are gone, the chance for you to join the Wild Adventure experience will push to 2020. Act now, and you could come home saying what most guys shout-out: This Could Be The Greatest Week of Your Life.

Snooze... and you'll lose. Click here, and you'll be taking the next step toward becoming a better version of the man God made you to be. Join us at the Smiling Moose!

Come with me; become a fisher of men...
